My grandfather, Vernon Hill, Jr., and his siblings were raised in this house. I have no sentimental attachment to it. However, I do have an interest in preserving Bessie Hill's house as an example of a kinship community.

Ann Willson, a "free woman of color," purchased one acre of land on the Great Falls Road in 1845, some fifteen years before the Civil War. No doubt she witnessed J.E.B. Stuart and his troops ride into Rockville in 1863. We can only imagine her fears: Would her land be confiscated? Would her provisions be looted and animals seized? Would she be enslaved? Who would protect her and her family? Fortunately they survived unscathed.

Ann's granddaughter Eliza married William Johnson in 1866. Ann transferred land to them in 1871 and lived long enough to see several of her great-grandchildren born.

In 1902, Eliza and William Johnson followed tradition and transferred property to their daughter Bessie Hill, who raised her three children here. Bessie was a laundress and served as the organist at Jerusalem Methodist Church. Her husband Vernon was a gardener.

Bessie's house sheltered yet another generation before it was sold in 1945. The balance of her land was sold in about 1972. The last of Ann Willson's original purchase passed out of family ownership in 1977.

I believe a vacant lot of less than one/fifth of an acre would have less appeal than that same lot with a historic house. There are tax incentives, low interest loans, grants and subsidies to assist with restoration. The middle school is across the street; access to 270 is nearby as is Town Center.

This enclave is significant because it was settled by a free black woman before the Civil War. We have here an example of a family that, through its industry and initiative, acquired wealth and was able to pass it to several generations. The Bessie Hill house is the oldest extant original structure of this kinship community; and I would like to see it survive.

Dear Mayor and Council:

I am writing to express my support for authorization to file a sectional map amendment to change zoning from R-90 to R-90 (HD) for 602 Great Falls Road,

I support this authorization for several reasons. This house, also known as the Bessie Hill house, is located in a small African-American community, which was settled in the late 1800s and early 1900s. It is a wonderful example of African-American settlements in Rockville. The construction and architectural qualities of the home are typical for that time period. In addition, the house has significant historical value as a reflection of the heritage and cultural values of African-Americans and their desire to build a sense of community, which is clearly identifiable by the homes built on Great Falls Road, in Rockville.

The home was placed on the Maryland Historical Trust inventory in 1987, and it is appropriate for the city to continue to safeguard and preserve this historic home. I urge the Mayor and Council to protect this home, at 602 Great Falls Road, by approving authorization of the sectional map amendment.

Sincerely,

Lucinda Hall

Re: 602 Great Falls Road

Dear Honorable Mayor and City Council:

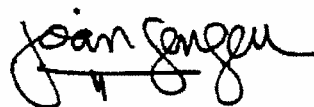

Peerless Rockville is pleased to endorse the nomination of 602 Great Falls Road as a Historic District.

602 Great Falls Road meets Criterion I-C, I-D, and II-A. This house symbolizes how a free single black woman, Anne Willson, was able to purchase land in a time when slavery existed. With this original one-acre land, Willson provided her family and descendents a place to live and start a family. And the family did until 1977—a long and rich history that all Rockvillians can appreciate.

The house at 602 Great Falls Road is also significant in itself. Although common when built, it is rare today to find a vernacular frame home of this kind in Rockville. Moreover, as the oldest house remaining in this black community, it is important more than ever to save it. This place matters.

Peerless Rockville urges the Mayor and Council to authorize filing of the Sectional Map Amendment at 602 Great Falls Road. We need to protect this site so we can continue to tell the many stories of this family and the African American community.

Sincerely,

Joan Zenzen
President

Re: Map Amendment MAP2010-00108, for a change in zoning from R-90 to R-90 (HD), In order to create a historic district at 602 Great Falls Road.

Dear Mm. Mayor and Council Members,

I support the rezoning of 602 Great Falls Road, known as the Bessie Hill house, to R-90 (HD).

Bessie Hill was my great- grandmother. The property is part of a small kinship community established when her great-great-grandmother,, Ann Willson a “free woman of color”, purchased one acre of land in 1845, some fifteen years before the Civil War. It evolved into a generational family enclave that lasted until 1977. The significance of this property can only be understood within the context of this kinship community

The subject property is the oldest extant original structure of this enclave. It is a typical vernacular house characteristic of working-class residents of Rockville at the turn of the 20th century and helps to present a more complete and accurate picture of the history and development of the city. Its demolition would constitute the loss of a valuable resource.

Rezoning the property to R- 90 (HD) would improve its marketability; protect the character of the community; and preserve a piece of Rockville’s heritage.

The owner is exploring the possibility of demolishing the house because he believes that it would not be cost effective to renovate it. Surely this house, even with the work required, would appeal to a new owner who appreciates its history and its location. There are tax incentives, low interest loans, grants and subsidies on both the state and local level designed to encourage restoration and preservation of historic structures.

We run the risk of a vacant lot attracting speculators, with no interest in maintaining the character of the settlement. There is nothing to prevent building of a structure incompatible with the modest housing in the community. Retaining and restoring the Bessie Hill house would also help to protect the other two ancestral houses on Ann Wilson's land.

The Historic District Commission voted in November 2009 to designate 602 Great Falls road as historic based on an assessment of its history and architecture. It was found that this property met the Criteria 1C, 1D, and IIA for historic Designation. For more than twenty years this kinship community has been recognized as a resource. It was included in the Historic Resources Management Plan in 1986; in the Maryland Historical Trust (MHT) inventory in 1987; and in the 1989 Rockville Historic Building Catalog. The time has come to give the Bessie Hill house the protection it deserves.

Re: Agenda 2/8/10, Item 12 – 602 Great Falls Road Zoning Change to R-90HD
For the Public Hearing Record

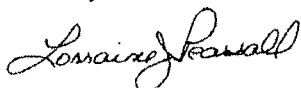

Dear Mayor Marcuccio and Councilmembers:

Montgomery Preservation, Inc. is Montgomery County's nonprofit historic preservation organization. We are writing you today in strong support of the change in zoning for 602 Great Falls Road from R-90 to R-90HD. This resource is extremely important to the history of Rockville and should be protected.

This house is a rare example of small-scale vernacular housing associated with Rockville's African-American kinship community in the Great Falls Road area. It is also remarkable in that it reflects the continuity of six generations of one African-American family in this location, with the roots to this land going back to a free black woman, Ann Wilson, as early as 1845. The house tells an important story that should be preserved for future generations. Culturally and historically, this resource is extremely important to Montgomery County as well as the City of Rockville.

Thank you very much for consideration of our request.

Sincerely,

Lorraine J. Pearsall,
President

Dear Mayor and Council,

Peerless Rockville supports the recommendation of the Historic District Commission to designate 602 Great Falls Road as an historic district.

As stated in the staff report, the Great Falls Road community is unique in that has its origins before the Civil War at a time when slavery existed. Ann Willson, a free black woman, purchased one acre of land on Great Falls Road in 1845. This act alone is remarkable since it was unusual for women black or white to purchase land on their own in the 19th century. For more than 125 years, six generations of Willson's family lived here and raised their families. The Bessie Hill house, the oldest structure still standing on this property, is a reminder of the extraordinary history of the Willson Davis family and Great Falls Road community.

The house is also significant in itself. Although common when built, it is rare today to find an ordinary home of this kind in Rockville. Moreover, as the oldest house remaining in this black community, it is important more than ever to give it historic designation.

We all know historic preservation is good for the community—it increases property values, preserves and enhances neighborhood character, and ensures a strong continuity with the City's past. Therefore, Peerless Rockville encourages the Mayor and Council to designate this property historic.

I am submitting the following for the official record of the Mayor and Council hearing tonight concerning 602 Falls Road:

I urge the Mayor and Council to approve the Sectional Map Amendment MAP2010-00108 to change the zoning from R-90 to R-90HD at 602 Great Falls Road.

The potential historic significance of this property is documented in the 1986 Historic Resources Management Plan, the 1989 Historic Buildings Catalog, the Comprehensive Master Plan and in the Local West End/Woodley Gardens East West Neighborhood Plan. I hope you will make this potential an actuality by approving the Sectional Map Amendment. I would like to thank Mr. John Stevens for seeking more information concerning his property and I wish him well in his effort to sell his property.

I would also like to commend City staff for the very thorough staff report that was prepared for this Sectional Map Amendment.
